

Cody Schmoll

2/17/14

I began my experience at CCV in fall of 2013, I was still very unsure if I even wanted to go back to school and kept procrastinating and pushing it off. I finally made up my mind that I wanted to go back to school to pursue a degree. I called the St. Albans campus and was greeted by a very pleasant voice on the other line. I was educated about the necessary steps that needed to be done in order to schedule my appointment to register for my classes. I got off the phone and felt so accomplished, like I finally had some sense of direction with my education and future career path.

I arrived at the St. Albans campus to register for my classes with a lot on my mind. I was greeted at the front desk by Jerry. He didn't waste a second to introducing himself shaking my hand and making sure I felt at ease and that all my questions would be answered. I knew as soon as I walked through the doors that I was in the right place. The atmosphere is very relaxed and friendly which eased all of my stress. I have met many encouraging teachers, staff members and students who have all pushed me to strive for my best. I look forward to continuing my education at CCV