

Patrick Clark

Storytelling—Spring 2014, St. Albans

I came to CCV because I moved to Vermont from Maryville, Tennessee. I came from a bigger community college so I had a take of how everything was going to be. I came into CCV knowing pretty much how everything will go with the portal and how the classes were going to be small.

When I decided to come to Vermont I know that I wanted to finish my two year degree, and then move on to a four year school. CCV was really the only school that I could go to that was close. So with the school picked out I moved up here to be with my girlfriend and registered for classes.

The way CCV is set up with the portal and classes was just like my old school. I enjoyed having small classes back at my old school so coming to CCV I was looking forward to having that close relationship with my teachers. With the move and everything is good to know CCV is my new home.